WHAT IS THE UNIFIED PLANNING WORK PROGRAM?

The Unified Planning Work Program (UPWP) develops and documents the studies and research projects that the Boston Region Metropolitan Planning Organization (MPO) staff carries out to provide transportation planning and technical assistance to municipalities and agencies in the Boston region.

These studies focus on all modes of travel with the goal of producing relevant and practical solutions that advance the MPO's vision.

The Boston Region MPO's Vision

The Boston Region MPO envisions a modern, well-maintained transportation system that supports a sustainable, healthy, livable, and economically vibrant region. To achieve this vision, the transportation system must be safe and resilient; incorporate emerging technologies; and provide equitable access, excellent mobility, and varied transportation options.

Studies and Technical Assistance projects in UPWP

The studies programmed in the UPWP:

- Gather data about the Boston region's transportation system, new technologies, regulations, and user preferences
- Identify the needs of transportation system users
- Develop project concepts for improving roadway corridors, intersections, bicycle and pedestrian facilities, and transit systems with the goal of creating communities that are safe, accessible, walkable, bikeable, and resilient
- Anticipate trends shaping the transportation industry to help the MPO better understand the relationships between transportation and other planning issues, such as land use or climate change

What are MPOs?

Since the 1970s, MPOs have been tasked with carrying out a transportation planning process that is continuing, comprehensive, and cooperative (the 3C Process).

HOW IS THE UPWP DEVELOPED?

SEPTEMBER TO JANUARY

MPO staff gather ideas about possible studies from member municipalities, advocates, and the public.

JANUARY TO MARCH

The UPWP Committee selects studies based on factors such as regional relevance, links to other MPO research, practicality, rootedness in the MPO's values, and available funding.

APRIL

The MPO staff and UPWP Committee incorporate feedback from MPO members, municipalities, The Regional Transportation Advisory Council (Advisory Council), and the public, and agree on a final list of discrete studies for federal funding.

This is a typical year schedule and timing may vary slightly from year to year

Each year, MPO staff conducts public outreach to gather input from municipalities, agencies, and community stakeholders about study ideas and transportation issues. The UPWP Committee, a subcommittee of the MPO board, oversees the development process, selects studies, and invites the public to submit feedback before the plan is finalized.
